

ALBERTO MATTIACCI
Full Professor of Marketing and Business Management
Sapienza, University of Rome

Alberto Mattiacci, PhD in Business Economics and Management, is full professor of Management and Marketing at Sapienza, University of Rome, Department of Communication and Social Research (Coris). Formerly he taught for more than 10 years at the University of Siena, as assistant, associate and full professor.

Alberto Mattiacci has an extensive teaching and research experience in Italy both on graduate and on executive education programs. Currently he teaches Market Driven Management and Marketing at the Bachelor and Economics and Advanced Marketing in the Master Class; he is Co-Director of Master Marketing Management (www.mumm.it) and Director of Master on Digital Export at the Italian Trade Commission.

Alberto Mattiacci is Former President of the Italian Marketing Society (www.simktg.it) after having served as General Secretary from 2011 to 2014 and President from 2014 to 2018.

Alberto Mattiacci is Scientific Referee and Visiting Professor at Luiss Business School, for executive education programs in marketing and communication. He is also Scientific Director at Eurispes, a private center for research on change in Economics, Politics and Society.

Alberto Mattiacci is co-founder and member of Circle International, an academic international network on distribution and consumer studies. He is a Board member of Fondazione Banfi, Fondazione Cueim and Fondazione D'Addario.

He served as President of the National Commission of Scientific Abilitation (2012-2014) and as Director at CITTA Sapienza (Research Center on Tourism, Territory and Environment). He has been also involved by Government, as an advisor and is involved in Aspen Institute Italia.

Senior partner at Mattiacci&Partners, a consultancy firm focused on marketing strategy. His research interests are Strategic Marketing. Sectorial areas of interest: television and media; wine production and quality food; tourism; niche marketing; social development, consumption and market policies. He is author and co-author of many books and papers published in Italy and abroad.

Alberto Mattiacci participated in more than 200 conferences and seminars in Italy and abroad, often as invited speaker and carried out numerous training activities organized by colleges (Sapienza, Siena, Iulm, Parma, Luiss Business School, Bergamo) institutions (ICE, Confindustria, Ministries) and private enterprises. He has organized and contributed significantly to organize more than 30 of conferences and workshops, both domestic and international.

Digital Touchpoint

W.	albertomattiacci.it
T.	@albertomtx
L.	alberto mattiacci
S.	alberto.mattiacci
M.	alberto.mattiacci@uniroma1.it